FAQ: Scaling Income Improvement for Small Scale Producers in India: Exploring how a living income lens can align Practice, Partnerships and Markets

19-20 November 2026| New Delhi, India

Event Details

Q: What is the Living Income Workshop?

The Living Income Workshop is an in-person event hosted by the Living Income Community of Practice. It focuses on how living income approaches can support national priorities related to agricultural development and prosperity, explored through collaborative sessions, discussions, and learning journeys.

Q: When and where is the workshop taking place?

The workshop will be held in New Delhi, India from November 19-20, 2026. For more details, visit our website.

Q. Will this event be hybrid?

No, this event will not be hybrid.

Q. Why did you choose India?

India, as one of the world's largest agricultural producers, has a vibrant ecosystem of government programmes, producer organisations, private sector initiatives and civil society organisations already working on farmer incomes. With significant investment already being made to improve farmer incomes, India has an opportunity to explore whether and how a living income approach can add value to existing efforts and support more coordinated, evidence-based action.

Q. What about the environmental impact of holding an in-person event?

Holding an in-person event undeniably has a greater environmental footprint than an online event, especially with an international audience. We have evaluated the pros and cons of this approach and, while most of LICOP's event programme remains online, we believe the benefits of providing an opportunity for you to come together in person outweigh the disadvantages.

With that said, we are committed to reducing the environmental impact of the Living Income Workshop as much as we can. The event will be organised according to ISEAL's Event Sustainability policy, and we welcome suggestions for how we can reduce waste and minimise our carbon footprint.

If your application is confirmed, this email will include an invitation to formally confirm your attendance and fill out a Participant Information form . Please ensure you complete the registration form and receive a final confirmation email, confirming your place as a workshop attendee, before making any travel plans.
